

The Australian designed and manufactured, Autoflo Pillar-Touch Mains Power Touch Tap is suitable for a range of hand washing applications ranging from public commercial areas such as public facilities to private commercial bathrooms. Any application where a sensor tap is not suitable and when a unique and stylish bathroom feature is as important as water conservation, the Autoflo Pillar-Touch is a first choice option.

The robust construction is complemented many features ensuring consistent performance. The “lit-up” push button informs the user of the function and is far easier to control compared to mechanical push-button taps. The Autoflo Pillar-Touch Mains Power Touch Tap is an affordable, high performance electronic tap.
